The CALEDONIAN is a magazine, a review and a newspaper combined

What Our Readers Say:

"Philadelphia, Pa.

"THE CALEDONIAN seems better and better as each number comes. Every article is interesting. It is full of "meat." There is fine variety in it. The style and setting is good. I regard it the best of its kind on the market. I am sincerely yours,

"J. McM."

"Wakefield, Mass.

"I sincerely hope you will prosper and continue to publish THE CALEDONIAN. I for one could not get along without it—the best and the only thing of its kind to be had monthly. I learn more from THE CALEDONIAN than I can learn from all other sources, in regard to the things or facts that a Scottish Scotsman should know or learn.

"Yours in truth,

"G. P. MacI."

"Fredonia, N. Y.

"I value my CALEDONIAN next to my Bible. It was from an old and valued friend of forty years ago, Dr. Angus Sinclair, that I received my first copy, and it was with profound sorrow we received word of his death.

"(Mrs.) M. McN."

"Quincy, Mass.

"THE CALEDONIAN still holds its place as the leading monthly in the homes of the Scottish born and of Scottish ancestry. Its pages have the breeziness of the heather hills, the typical staunchness and pathos of Scottish hearts and a wealth of information, dependable, for reading and so clear and concise that its value is beyond measure.

"A. J. C."

"New York City.

"It has been a great comfort to us, and we enjoy reading it, and find it very instructive, giving a lot of valuable information on matters of present day interest. Thanking you,

"J. L."

Reports the doings of Scottish and other British people throughout the world

What Our Readers Say:

"New York City.

"I always read and appreciate THE CALEDONIAN with more than ordinary interest. I do hope that you may live long to keep the sturdy Scot and the magnificent traits of character possessed by him always in the very front rank of the generations to come.

"W. L. McC."

"Dollar Bay, Mich.

"I think THE CALEDONIAN is a great magazine and should be in every Scottish home, as it is very fine on all Scotch things and gives a lot of Scottish news. Wishing THE CALEDONIAN great success.

"J. M. S."

"Los Angeles, Cal.

"I am kind of slack at renewing my CALEDONIAN at times, but enjoy it very much and could not get along without it.

"G. A."

"Schoolcraft, Michigan.

"The magazine certainly improves with age. Among the many interesting articles contained in several of your last issues, those on 'Men Worth Remembering' touched me deeply. Chalmers and Irving were before my day. Norman MacLeod and Thomas Guthrie I can never forget. Something like the old thrill came over me as I read your sketches of the two men. 'A wee sigh stirred by bosom and a sma tear blind my ee.' I have heard no such preachers since, and now I do not expect to hear their like again. Your covenanting worthies brought back to me the lang fore nichts wi' grannie at her shank telling us stories of Claverhouse, Sandy Peden and John Brown the Carrier, etc.

"A. G. B."

"West Hoboken, N. J.

"Allow me to thank you for sending the six extra copies of THE CALEDONIAN. Now, if you can send me another package of one dozen copies, I will appreciate it.

"(Mrs.) W. F."

Dear Sirs:-

Under separate cover we take pleasure in mailing you a copy of the December CALEDONIAN.

As a member of the Pilgrims, I am in receipt of the circular regarding the medal struck by your Society in commemoration of the visit of the Prince of Wales to the U.S. containing a very attractive cut of the medal. If you can furnish us with this cut, we will be pleased to use it in the February issue of the CALEDONIAN. I return it to you,

Dear Sir:

Thank you for the copy of the December Caledonian, and for your offer to reproduce the medal struck by our Society, if we will furnish you with the cut.

I am willing to do this, if in your comment you will make it plain that the subscription is limited to members of The American Numismatic Society and The Pilgrims of the United States, and that the subscription closes March 1st.

As the cut is copyrighted, it will, of course, be necessary for you to indicate that reproduction is permitted by us.

I will have this cut sent you within a few days. Please acknowledge its receipt, and return it as soon as your edition of the February number has been printed.

Very respectfully yours,

Secretary.
